Welcome to the 1999 United States Mint Catalog

Dear Collector:

Year's end—time again for a stunning array of coins, jewelry, and collectibles from our Holiday Collection Catalog. You well know 1999 is no ordinary year, and in these pages we end a momentous century and welcome a new millennium with beautiful, memorable, and desirable products.

Every collector will want several products from the inaugural year of the 50 State Quarters™ program, ranging from proof and uncirculated coins to office accessories. I call every collector's, parent's, and teacher's attention to the 50 State Quarters™ Collector's Map, a durable and delightfully priced showcase for the decade of new quarter-dollars.

Your Holiday Collection Catalog features a pleasant and unexpected surprise: 1999 Susan B. Anthony dollars! On the eve of minting a new dollar coin, economic growth and public demand compelled us to strike Susies for the first time in almost 20 years … and the last time ever. They're here, in proof sets, uncirculated sets, and bags of 25 or 1,000.

Whoever appreciates history, art, nature, and the institution of the American presidency will want this year's Dolley Madison, George Washington, and Yellowstone National Park commemorative coins. For Washington and Yellowstone, we and National Archives bring you another innovative product: the Coin and Chronicles Collection.

And we again offer an array of coin jewelry, personal items, and home-office accessories along with hallmark American Eagle collectibles in gold, silver, and platinum.

The old with the new, history in your pocket, the future in your hand: you'll find them among the Mint Holiday Collection's beautiful, useful, and unforgettable products.

Sincerely,

Philip N. Diehl
Director

Final Proofs of the Century

50 STATE QUARTERS™
UNITED STATES MINT

The United States Mint Proof Set®

This year we are embarking on a historic program — minting a new quarter to honor every state in the union. Made primarily for collectors, proof coins from the U.S. Mint set the international standard for numismatic excellence. Unlike ordinary coins in circulation, proof coins display brilliant, mirror-like background surfaces with frosted, sculpted foregrounds — a special effect created by the exacting proofing process. The Proof Set will include one quarter from each state honored this year, as well as the Lincoln Cent, Jefferson Nickel, Roosevelt Dime, and Kennedy Half-Dollar — nine coins in all. Proof Sets make a worthy addition to your collection as well as great gifts. Quantities are limited...so don't miss out. Household limit: 5.

1999 Platinum Proof Coins

The ultimate acquisition for the collector of modern coinage. Platinum offers unparalleled crispness of definition and richness of luster. Its impressive weight adds a satisfying heft to the pleasures of ownership. Masterful examples of the minter's art, this year's coins continue the Vistas of Liberty™ series, showcasing regional American landscapes. The southeastern U.S. is the focus of the 1999 reverse, notably depicting an American Alligator for the first time on a U.S. coin. The obverse portrays Lady Liberty, an apt symbol of freedom and vigilance on the eve of a new millennium. Each coin containing 99.95% pure platinum is presented in a black velvet, satin-lined presentation case with a Certificate of Authenticity.

1999 Silver Proof Coin

Sculptor A. A. Weinman's graceful "Walking Liberty" obverse owes much to the work of his mentor, Augustus Saint-Gaudens. It is paired with a powerful "Heraldic Eagle" reverse created by the U.S. Mint's engraver, John Mercanti. At the Philadelphia Mint, burnished blanks are hand-fed into presses fitted with specially polished dies. At least two strikes are required to achieve a frosted image against a mirrored background. Inspected with gloved hands, each coin is sealed in a protective capsule and mounted in a velvet, satin-lined presentation case with a Certificate of Authenticity.

Historic
Coin & Chronicles Collection

October 1999

Dear Friends:

The United States Mint, maker of the nation's coinage, and the National Archives, preserver of documents that made a nation, are proud to announce a momentous collaboration on behalf of numismatists, historians, archivists, teachers, parents, and Americans for generations to come.

The United States Mint and the National Archives are jointly issuing replicas of relevant and carefully preserved historic papers, art, maps, writings, photographs and documents from the nation's archival vaults. We call it our Coin and Chronicles Collection, and you no doubt can already imagine the rich and endless possible combinations that name suggests. And now, the first collectibles from this history-making partnership debut in the catalog you hold.

First in this exciting new series is the George Washington Folio, a rich assemblage of document reproductions issued to complement the 1999 George Washington $5 Commemorative Gold Coin. These documents include George Washington's commission into the army; John Adams' nomination of Washington as Commander-in-Chief; President Washington's inaugural address and his fourth message to a joint session of Congress; the resolution to establish the Mint; and his nomination of David Rittenhouse as director. All of these documents were photographed at the National Archives Headquarters in Washington, D.C., expressly for this project and have been meticulously reproduced to match the actual history-making documents.

Yellowstone... a magic name in the American imagination! Our forebearers marveled at these fantastic and breathtaking landscapes and chose to preserve them forever with the world's first national park. And now you can relive their excitement through the magnificence of Ansel Adams' Yellowstone photography reproduced from his work commissioned by the United States Government in 1941-1942. Twelve of his breathtaking photographs are presented for your enjoyment in the Yellowstone National Park Folio. Each photograph in the folio has been faithfully reproduced to Ansel Adams' original photography in the National Archives and is suitable for framing. This attractive folio complements The Yellowstone National Park Silver Dollar.

Official U.S. coins offered with replicas of historic writings, maps, photos, and documents—that's a guarantee of collectibles you'll want to own and leave as your legacy to friends and family. Important new collectibles like these could come only through an epic partnership like the National Archives and the United States Mint. Now they have, and more are ahead. We welcome you to a new era of excitement, enjoyment, and educational enrichment.
